Christmas 2013

Hi Friends,

Christmas means many things to me, but one of the best is HOPE! God becoming man, love which knows no limits, the opportunity to live forever. These are all amazing things which Christmas represents and brings forth. But this year the one thing that hits me most is hope (maybe because sometimes I feel this is the only thing I can cling to). Our world is filled with sin, violence, corruption, hate and just plain sorrow. But, the message of Christmas brings hope beyond any of that. It brings a message that in the midst of all our troubles and sorrows we can go forward in certainty that the future is bright...brightened by the light of Jesus. This hope which He brought allows me to live a purposeful life through all the circumstances set before me because I am certain the best is yet to come; a future so amazing no one has been able to fully describe it.

Take some time today to think about the event we celebrate and see if you would agree that if you know the "reason for the season", Jesus, your life, no matter what the specific circumstances, must be one of hope. Hope that our Lord will make everything right, hope He is your eternal salvation and hope that no matter what you go through, all of the pain will turn to joy and the best is yet to come...that is His promise

From Tammy and me in the country of Kenya...MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL OUR FAMILY AND FRIENDS!
